SICPA PRIVACY POLICY

INFORMATION FOR RESIDENCE OF BRAZIL.
Please visit the Brazilian's website and dedicated Privacy Policy.

THIS PRIVACY POLICY APPLIES TO THE SITE WHERE IT APPEARS.
This Policy describes how we treat personal information we collect online and/or to grant access to specific sandbox environments. You agree to the terms in this policy when you use this site. To download a full copy of this Privacy Policy, click here.

WE COLLECT INFORMATION FROM AND ABOUT YOU.
Contact information. For example, we might collect your name and street address. We might also collect your phone number, email, company or organisation name.
Information you submit or post. If you post or submit content, we will collect the information you provide to us.
Other information. If you use our website, we may collect information about the browser you're using. We might look at what site you came from, or what site you visit when you leave us.

WE COLLECT INFORMATION IN DIFFERENT WAYS.
We collect information directly from you. For example, if you register for an account, request access to a sandbox environment or apply for a job. We also collect information if you post a comment or make a request.
We collect information from you passively. We use tracking tools like browser cookies and web beacons. To control these tools, click on the cookie symbol in the bottom left-hand corner of the page.
Use of third-party business intelligence tools. We may use third-party business intelligence and analytics tools to better understand how visitors interact with our website and to improve our business-to-business marketing activities. These tools may collect information such as IP address, device and browser information, company attribution, and pages visited on our website.
We get information about you from third parties. We may obtain about you professional or business-related information about website visitors from third-party sources, including business intelligence providers such as ZoomInfo Technologies LLC, which may collect and provide information relating to your professional capacity.

WE USE INFORMATION AS DISCLOSED AND DESCRIBED HERE.
We use information to respond to your requests or questions.

We use information to improve our products and services. We might use your information to customise your experience with us.
We use information to look at site trends and customer interests. We may use your information to make our website and services better. We may combine information we get from you with information about you, we get from third parties.
We use information for security purposes. We may use information to protect our company, our customers, or our websites.
We use information for marketing and business development purposes. For example, we might tell you about new features or products. These might be our own offers or products, or third-party offers or products we think you might find interesting. To learn about your choices for these communications, read the choices section below. We may use information collected directly, automatically, or obtained from third parties to support our business to business marketing, sales, and business development activities. These include identifying potential business prospects that may be interested in our products and services, analysing website engagement, and tailoring our outreach efforts.
We use information to send you transactional communications. For example, we might send you emails about your account. We might also contact you about this policy or our website terms.

We use information to provide you access to specific solutions. For example, you might request access to the Digital Trust Suite sandbox environment. We use it to authenticate users, manage permissions, and ensure secure interactions within the sandbox.

We use information as otherwise permitted by law.

WE MAY SHARE INFORMATION WITH THIRD PARTIES.
We will share information within the SICPA family of companies. For example, we share information with our subsidiaries and affiliates.
We will share information with third parties who perform services on our behalf. For example, we share information with vendors who help us manage our websites. Some vendors may be located outside of Switzerland. We also share information with third parties that assist us in marketing our products or services.
We may share information if we think we have to in order to comply with local and international law or to protect ourselves. For example, we will share information to respond to a court order. We may also share it if a government agency or investigatory body requests.
We may share information with any successor to all or part of our business. For example, if part of our business was sold we may give our customer list as part of that transaction.
We may share information for other reasons we may describe to you.

YOU HAVE CERTAIN CHOICES ABOUT HOW WE USE YOUR INFORMATION.
You can opt out of receiving our marketing emails. To stop receiving our promotional emails, follow the instructions in any promotional message you get from us. Do not worry! Even if you opt out of getting marketing messages, we will still be sure to send you transactional messages.

You can control cookies and tracking tools. To learn how to manage how we use cookies and other tracking tools, please click here.
You have other controls you can exercise. You can choose whether or not to share personal information. If you choose not to share, some parts of our sites and some services may be more difficult or impossible to use. If you turn off cookies or tracking tools, parts of our site and services may also not work properly.

WE USE STANDARD SECURITY MEASURES.
The Internet is not 100% secure. We make every effort to protect SICPA databases but cannot promise that your use of our sites will be completely safe. We encourage you to use caution when using the Internet. This includes not sharing your passwords.

We keep personal information as long as it is necessary or relevant for our business. When you access our websites, the following data is stored on log files: IP address, date, time, browser request and general information on the operating system and browser. We also keep information as otherwise required by Swiss law.

WE STORE INFORMATION BOTH IN AND OUTSIDE OF SWITZERLAND.
Certain sites and servers may be located in Switzerland and abroad. If you are outside of Switzerland, your information may be sent to Switzerland. By using our sites, and by giving us your information, you consent to such transfer. You also understand that Switzerland may potentially not provide you with as much protection as the laws of your country.

WE MAY LINK TO THIRD PARTY SITES OR SERVICES WE DON'T CONTROL.
If you click on one of those links, you will be taken to websites we do not control. This policy does not apply to the privacy practices of those websites. Read the privacy policy of other websites carefully. We are not responsible for these third-party sites.

THIRD-PARTY OPT-OUT OPTIONS.
Certain third-party providers we use, including ZoomInfo, act as independent controller. They offer their own mechanisms for exercising data protections rights, such as the right of opting out of their databases. While you may exercise your rights regarding our use of your data as descripted in, we encourage you to review the privacy notices of these third-party providers to exercise your rights directly with them.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR CALIFORNIA RESIDENTS.
This section applies to individuals who reside in California and describes their rights under the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA).
Your rights. Under the CCPA, you have the following rights:

- The right to request information about the categories and specific pieces of personal information we have collected about you.
- The right to request deletion of your personal information, subject to certain exceptions.
- The right to opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information.
- The right not to be discriminated against for exercising your privacy rights.

SALE OR SHARING OF PERSONAL INFORMATION.
We may share certain information collected through cookies and similar technologies with our analytics, advertising, and social media partners to better understand how visitors use our website and to support our marketing activities.

Under California law, this type of sharing may be considered a “sale” or “sharing” of personal information.

HOW TO EXERCISE YOUR RIGHTS
You can exercise your right to opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information by:

- Using the “Do Not Sell My Personal Information” option available in our cookie preference centre.
- Adjusting your cookie settings at any time through the cookie symbol displayed on our website.

If you opt out, we will not use your information for personalised advertising purposes nor share it with third parties for such purposes.

BROWSER-BASED SIGNALS.
If you have enabled privacy settings in your browser (such as a browser plugin or privacy signal), we will treat such signals as a valid request to opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information, where legally required.

In such cases, we may not be able to track your activity across websites, which may affect our ability to provide personalised content or advertisements.
